Washington Does Not Know Why Jenkins Was Released

OIL PRODUCERS CHARGED WITH PROFITEERING

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Prosecution of oil producers for profiteering was ordered today by Attorney General Palmer in response to a complaint of Senator Capper. Federal agents were instructed to proceed at once against producers who have taken advantage of the fuel shortage in the west to increase the price of their products.

Simultaneously the railroad administration established an embargo of fuel Monday against shipment of fuel oil from the west to points east of Chicago and St. Louis. This action was explained as a measure to compel the use where possible in western territory of fuel oil instead of coal.

(By Associated Press.)
Oil producers, Senator Capper said, have increased their prices from about a dollar a barrel to nearly $150 a barrel. Capper also asked the department of justice to investigate complaints that oil producers had gotten together on prices. He said quotations by big concerns were practically on an even basis.

MAKING A ROAD TO ARROWHEAD

The county commissioners are engaged listening to statements from the miners and business men of Arrowhead who ask for the building of a short cut-off that will reduce the distance between Tonopah and the camp fifteen miles. Some of the Arrowhead people are urging the improvement of the new road connecting the camp with the Midland Trail at Twin Springs which would more directly benefit Ely, while others insist that a new road be built from Warm Springs over the Panake range which is said to offer no serious obstacles to the builders. This is the route favored by Tonopah men as it would shorten the line for all freight handled through the Tonopah gateway as that is the most direct means of reaching the camp. The Warm Springs route would cost about $2,000 to improve and the Twin Springs road would cost for $1,500, half of which the Arrowhead Consolidated Mining company would guarantee from its own treasury and other contributors. The county commissioners are hearing further arguments today.

KOSTOFF LETTER NOT GENUINE

Steve Kostoff, suspected of killing Ed Phiberty at Tonopah avenue and Main street November 17, is supposed to be in hiding about the southern border close to the Mexican line where there is reason to believe he made his way from Tonopah. The letter from Needles, Calif., bearing his signature is supposed to have been a blind to throw the officers off his trail as the writing does not correspond to other letters written by the fugitive and the signature bears only a remote resemblance to the genuine. The police think Kostoff had nothing to do with the letter other than, perhaps, outline the story to a friend who mailed the missive from Needles which Kostoff purposely avoided. The letter was written in the Bulgarian language and purported to give complete information about the circumstances attending the killing. Acting Chief of Police Bob Pelsell is following up the case by issuing a descriptive circular to be sent broadcast throughout the west.

ORE IN THE OPERATOR DEMONSTRATED TODAY

There cannot be any doubt of the presence of an orebody in the Operator Divide after samples taken this morning and for which returns from the assayer were received this afternoon. The strike, while not showing commercial ore, carries $374 for seven feet. Three samples were taken and a rich streak gave high-grade values while the lowest sample ran $9.30. The ledge came in on the northwest of the shaft and on the southeast, dipping south. Manager Thomas J. Lynch is elated over the prospect.

News of a strike on the Simon Mina company was received last evening when it was learned that the property arrived from the mine with the statement that the crosscut started at a depth of 180 feet from the shaft had cut the contact and is in a full face of highly oxidized ledge matter which looks very promising. The strike was made yesterday. The Simon Mina is a lead silver proposition in line and at least genuine situated about a mile south of the Simon Lead mines estate. The president of the company is John K. Turner, Charles A. Calhoun vice president, and Branch Smith, secretary. C. C. Boak and Harry E. Epstein are included among the leading stockholders.

GERMANY MUST DO AS ORDERED

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Dec. 6.—In a note drafted by the supreme council today it is demanded that Germany sign the protocol providing for carrying out the peace treaty, failing which it is set forth the allies would be obliged to have recourse to military measures. Some speculation is being indulged in as to whether the American forces in the occupied region would join in carrying out military measures should Germany refuse to sign the protocol. It was learned, however, that this question had not been raised by the allies, who assume that, as the armistice still is in force, the Americans would take part in any forward movement.

NOT A CENT TO PRICE OF COAL

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Not one cent can be added to the price of coal to finance any increase in the wages of miners. MEXICAN AERIAL FLEET MASSING

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Mexico plans to have a strong force, but the war department is without information as to its present equipment. Acting Secretary of War Crowell told the house military committee. Crowell said that if Mexico had twenty-four modern pursuit planes, as intimated by Representative La Guardia, he thought Mexico would have supremacy of the air over the United States in the event of war. La Guardia said he understood Mexico had obtained this number of planes from France and England during the past year.

Urging creation of a separate air service, Crowell declared that such a department "is or soon will be the most important body connected with national defense." Explaining his answer to Representative La Guardia later, Crowell said he had meant that if any country had now in commission a fleet of twenty-four battle planes of the very latest design it would be more than the United States had of such types now in operation.

Despite the rapid demobilization of personnel since the armistice, the navy is ready to meet any emergency. Secretary Daniels declared in discussing published reports that the navy would be found unprepared if called upon for active service at this time.

LAWSUIT OVER A PARTY DRESS

Justice of the Peace Harry Grier has been summoned to appear before Judge Averil in the district court next Wednesday to explain why he should not comply with a petition for a change of venue in a case arising from a dispute between Mlle. A. Girondo and Mrs. P. H. O'Connor, a waitress at the Mirpah hotel. The bill was for a new evening dress. After examining the costume, the buyer says she discovered evidence that the goods were not new. She demanded return of her money which the dressmaker refused with the result that a suit was filed for the amount. Mlle. Girondo's attorney asked for a change of venue to Manhattan and the court suggested that, if defendant thought there was any prejudice on his part, he would be only too glad to adjudge the proceedings by having Judge Lawrence from the Manhattan precinct come to Tonopah to hear the case. The court thought it would be cheaper to bring the justice here at a cost of about $15 rather than subject the parties interested to the heavy expense of transporting all their witnesses and the attorneys to the other end of the county. The defendant would not accept this suggestion and Justice Grier ruled that there would not be any change of venue unless defendant deposited the costs of trying the case in Manhattan. Mlle. Girondo could not see it in the same light and therefore her attorney was instructed to ask the higher court to issue a mandamus.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS DENY MUTINY STORY

(By Associated Press.)
MADISON, Wis., Dec. 6.—A gathering which jammed the Engineering auditorium to hear Colonel Raymond Robins tell about soviet Russia was drawn to an exciting pitch when soldiers who had served at Archangel hotly challenged a statement by Robins that as an indirect result of the allies' policy in failing to recognize the bolshevik government, American soldiers in Russia had mutinied.

"We demand to know your authority for that statement," declared

Captain John Commons. "We served at Archangel and there was no mutiny."

Colonel Robins said his proof consisted of affidavits from three American soldiers, including an officer. Soldiers and others demanded to know the names of the affidavit signers and Robins said he could not divulge them. Robins promised not to include the mutiny statements in further lectures until he had further opportunity to consult his original informants.

SECRET MISSION OF A TRANSPORT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—Such deep secrecy surrounds the reason for sending the United States army transport Mt. Vernon, formerly the North German Lloyd flagship Kronprinzessin Cecilie and the largest vessel ever to enter San Francisco harbor, that no local army officer of the quartermaster corps can be found to penetrate it.

The transport is too large to remain docked at the transport piers at Fort Mason, so she is anchored in the stream. If they keep her docked her stern sticks so far out in the stream that the tides endanger the ship. The vessel is too large for any ordinary transport work, such as carrying troops between San Francisco, Hawaii, the Philippines or Siberia in time of peace, because large bodies of troops are not carried between these points. At a stretch 10,000 men can be crowded on the Mt. Vernon, although half that number is the normal troop carrying capacity. The ship has a speed of twenty-four knots, is 706 feet in length, is driven by the largest reciprocating engines in the world, having a total of 45,000 horsepower, and costing a fortune in fuel. It takes twenty-two officers and 546 men to man the vessel, and if she is going to be used as a transport between here and the Philippines, army officers point out that sometimes her crew will outnumber the troops on board.

Many army officers think that perhaps the reason for the Mt. Vernon coming here under secret orders is that she is to be used in case of trouble with Mexico. They can see no other reason for a ship of her size being here on army transport service.

"There is no accounting for tastes," especially since prohibition has caused them to taste almost anything.
